Important Information

The value of shares in Herald Investment Trust plc fluctuates in accordance with the underlying performance of the securities in which it invests. As the shares are traded on a stock market, the share price will also fluctuate in accordance with supply and demand and may not reflect the underlying net asset value of the shares; where the share price is less than the underlying value of the assets per share, the difference is known as the 'discount'. For these reasons, investors may not get back the original amount they invested.

The Company may borrow money in order to make further investments. This is known as 'gearing' and can enhance shareholder returns in rising markets but, conversely, can reduce them in falling markets.

This factsheet has been issued and approved by Herald Investment Management Ltd, which is authorised and regulated by the Financial Conduct Authority.
